INTRODUCTION

You never lose your natal chart; it is yours for a lifetime. When you move away from your place of birth, however, your horoscope can be "relocated" for that new place. The relocated horoscope gives additional themes and issues (like an overlay on the natal chart for your birthplace) which are particularly relevant for that area. A relocated chart is only relevant while you are residing in that area. If you move again, you would look at the relocated chart for the new city.

This report will examine motifs which are highlighted for the relocation you have chosen. It is divided into sections to discuss the items which change from your birthplace to the relocation. (A relocation changes your houses cusps, including the Midheaven and Ascendant. Thus, planets may shift from one house to another, and the aspects to your Midheaven and Ascendant may change. You may get different signs on the Ascendant and Midheaven, shifting their rulers, and rulers may also change houses.) Your Relocation Profile will examine each set of changes in turn and close with a summary of potentials in terms of life areas (relationships, money, etc.) which are more favorably configured (or less) in your relocation. The final section also offers suggestions for planning future relocations.

PLANETS CHANGING HOUSES

When you relocate, one of the major changes which can occur is that your planets may occupy "new" houses--different houses than the ones they occupied in the horoscope of your birthplace. You never "lose" your natal horoscope. It is the basic essence that underlies everything. You continue to face natal themes no matter where you live. The relocated horoscope, however, indicates issues that will be in higher focus for you in that location. Think of the relocated positions as another shading on the hues of the natal horoscope.

This section of your Relocation Profile will look at each of your planets. Their house placements will first be interpreted in your birth chart. Then, if the planets occupy different houses in the relocated horoscope, those positions will be delineated.

A later section will consider the significance of rulership changes in the relocated chart.

For your birthplace, the Sun is in the 1st house.

Your creativity is impulsive and breaks new ground. You seek admiration for your whole being (everything you do). Your children may be active and assertive. You are proud of (or ashamed of) your independence and forthrightness. Magnetism comes naturally to you. You rejoice in self-expression and pioneering activities. Your dramatic instincts flow spontaneously from within you. Love, for you, is active and ardent. Risk-taking can be a form of self-expression for you. Self-esteem is a central focus of your experience.

For your relocation, the Sun is in the 12th house. You keep the above themes, but add the following overlay:

Your creativity is intuitive, gentle, global and inclusive. You seek admiration for compassion, empathy, sensitivity and gentleness. Your children may be sweet, idealistic, victims or artistic. You are proud of (or ashamed of) your ideals, dreams and visions. Magnetism is tied to romance, illusions, glamor and beauty for you. You rejoice in Unity, feeling a bond of love with all Life. Your dramatic spirit expresses easily in artistic or helping modes. Love, for you, is a beautiful dream with total Oneness. Risk-taking occurs through idealistic channels, your pursuit of perfection. Self-esteem is tied to your quest for infinite love and beauty.

For your birthplace, the Moon is in the 12th house.

Your emotional security is tied to the universe and feeling Oneness with the whole. You nurture/depend on anyone and anything. You protect/conserves the highest, the most ideal, the most beautiful in life. Your family breeds imagination, artistry, saving instincts or martyrdom. The past builds/challenges your capacity to seek the beautiful and idyllic in life. Your mothering style is beautiful, perfectionistic, assisting, or artistic; you could be a victim, a martyr or an idealist. Your home/domestic environment is beautiful, confusing, escapist or soothing. Your feelings are gentle, compassionate, idealistic and sweet. You remember fantasies, visions, dreams and inspirations. Your inner child is sensitive, intuitive, gentle and seeks unity.

For your relocation, the Moon is in the 11th house. You keep the above themes, but add the following overlay:

Your emotional security is tied to new age knowledge, technology, friends or communal associations. You nurture/depend on friends, causes and social networks. You protect/conserves opportunity for all, humanitarian principles and tolerance. Your family breeds individualism, change, open-endedness and unusual approaches. The past builds/challenges your uniqueness, humanitarian principles or openness to the new. Your mothering style is equalitarian, erratic, open, friendly or unpredictable. Your home/domestic environment is chaotic, unusual, ever-changing or full of friends/concepts coming and going. Your feelings are detached, intellectualized and concerned with broad issues. You remember the new, the different, abstractions and changes. Your inner child is rebellious, individualistic, unique and inventive.

For both your birthplace and your relocation, Mercury is in the 1st house.

Your consciousness is self-oriented, concerned with independence and assertion. Your learn quickly, through action, but may be impatient if ideas are slow to click in. Your interactions with relatives may be independent, acerbic, aggressive or eager. You think about action, doing your own thing, liberty and anger. Your communication style is rapid, spontaneous, direct and may be impulsive. Your surrounding environment stimulates/challenges your assertion, coordination, courage and pioneering spirit. You are curious about who you are, the new, bravery and independence. You can be lighthearted about your sense of self, anger and the pursuit of liberty. Your interests may include sports or vigorous physical action, assertive self-expression or courageous ground-breaking. You notice courage, initiative, vitality and enthusiasm.

For your birthplace, Venus is in the 12th house.

You enjoy art, assisting the downtrodden and imaginative activities. You find comfort in fantasy, dreams, visions and ideals. Security, for you, comes through faith in the goodness of the universe. Your possessions may be beautiful, illusory, fanciful or visionary. You may earn money through artistic, helping/healing routes or anything connected to the infinitely large, very small, or perception of patterns. Your partner could be artistic, attractive, escapist, a savior type, gentle, compassionate or empathic. You balance yourself through idealistic, artistic or helping activities. Your social interactions are inclined toward privacy; your feelings may be tender and soft. Justice, for you, is inevitable, given life's interconnections. Equality, in your eyes, lies in the underlying patterns linking us all; what hurts one eventually hurts all.

For your relocation, Venus is in the 11th house. You keep the above themes, but add the following overlay:

You enjoy the new, the different, the unusual and the individualistic. You find comfort in change, innovation and communal efforts. Security, for you, lies in the mind, the future and your friends. Your possessions are unpredictable, unconventional and unusual. You may earn money through an unusual career, have nonstandard hours or working conditions or labor in a very different manner. Your partner could be unique, independent, cool, humanitarian, weird or intellectual. You balance friends, social causes, humanitarian principles and the need for change in your life. Your social interactions are wide but casual; you can relate to many people but are likely to be close to only a few. Justice, for you, is for all and demands equal opportunity for everyone. Equality, in your eyes, is a fact of life; each one of us is unique and as irreplaceable as every other person.

For your birthplace, Mars is in the 2nd house.

You are deliberate, determined and persistent. Your courage expresses in areas of sensuality, pleasure and money. Your sense of self is comfortable; you like who you are. Your independence is easygoing, but immovable; no one pushes you around. Your will is powerful; you strongly resist the influence of others. Your energy is enduring; you have great followthrough. You assert yourself in matters of comfort, pleasure, beauty and finances. You get angry slowly, but are a bulldozer once your ire is roused. You push for physical gratification and material rewards. You initiate pleasurable sensations and gratifying experiences.

For your relocation, Mars is in the 1st house. You keep the above themes, but add the following overlay:

You are open, spontaneous, direct and independent. Your courage is marked. Your sense of self is highlighted; you want to do your own thing in life. Your independence is vital to your identity and self-expression. You are very strong willed. Your energy is high; you bounce back easily. You assert yourself naturally. You get angry quickly and get over it quickly. You push for what you want in the world. You initiate easily; pioneering is natural to you.

For your birthplace, Jupiter is in the 5th house.

You believe in/value excitement, creativity and doing more than you have done before. You trust (put your faith in) love, joy, power, attention or magnetism. Your world view is dramatic, confident and expansive. You seek understanding of children, love relationships, pride, shame and power. Your ethics/moral principles revolve around love, pride and the human right to be recognized and appreciated. Your humor is dramatic, exaggerated and could even be buffoonish. You teach/learn about speculation, the limelight, entertainment and self-esteem. You expand/enlarge/exaggerate your capacity for attention, admiration and approval. You generalize about/assume you understand creativity, love, pride, and ego needs; don't jump to conclusions. You theorize about power, transcending the past and magnified emotions.

For your relocation, Jupiter is in the 4th house. You keep the above themes, but add the following overlay:

You believe in/value warmth, compassion, family and caring. You trust (put your faith in) blood ties, roots, security and protection. Your world view is sensitive, protective and preserving. You seek understanding of dependency and nurturance needs. Your ethics/moral principles are strongly influenced (pro or con) by your mother or mother figure. Your find humor in domestic issues and family interactions. You teach/learn about emotional ties, mothering instincts and closeness. You expand/enlarge the home (literally) or family perspectives (through travel or broadening influences). You generalize about/assume you understand your home and family; don't leap to conclusions. You theorize about feelings, emotional needs and heredity.

For your birthplace, Saturn is in the 5th house.

You structure the expression of love and admiration and must be wary of lowering your self-esteem. The law, in your eyes, is powerful, demanding and sometimes generous. You feel responsible for children, loved ones and creative acts. Your duties involve thrills, risk-taking, the limelight or love. You are susceptible to guilt regarding love, power, drama and speculation. You perceive authorities (including father) as exciting, dynamic, arrogant, bombastic, histrionic, generous or magnetic. You may feel limited in your self-expression or creativity and need to avoid "hiding your light under a bushel." Your career needs to involve power, excitement, thrills, children, creativity, a special loved one or fame. Your karma affects your capacity to shine and be significant and your interactions with lovers and children. You can be realistic about your need to be admired, noticed, and applauded.

For your relocation, Saturn is in the 4th house. You keep the above themes, but add the following overlay:

You structure your feelings and may over (or under-) control your nurturing instincts or desire to be taken care of by others. The law, in your eyes, should be compassionate, supportive and protective. You feel responsible for home, family, roots and security. Your duties are usually emotional, inclusive and may involve assisting others. You are susceptible to guilt regarding your home, family and domestic needs. You perceive authorities (including father) as warm, caring, supportive, needy, clinging or sensitive. You may feel limited by your early environment or mother (or mother figure) and need to be realistic in your reactions. Your career needs to involve caretaking, assistance, home and family, heredity, roots, or pursuit of underlying patterns. Your karma affects your capacity for emotional closeness and your interactions with your mother or mother figure. You can be realistic about your nurturing capacity and your vulnerabilities.

For your birthplace, Uranus is in the 12th house.

You rebel in your quest for infinite love and beauty, in how you pursue Oneness with the Whole. You change/reform your faith in life and capacity for empathy. Your friends may be victim types, idealists, romantics, savior types or artists. You challenge the status quo in regard to ideals, hopes, wishes and dreams. You invent/originate easily with intuition and creative imagination. You break the rules about selflessness, sacrifice and martyrdom. You revolutionize perspectives on unity and life's interconnections. You can be tolerant of savior-victim games and philanthropic dreams. Freedom, for you, is tied to the quest for an ideal, perfect world; don't let frustrations build up because the ideal is unreachable. The collective/humanity, in your view, is passive, escapist, involved in fantasies and imaginative.

For your relocation, Uranus is in the 11th house. You keep the above themes, but add the following overlay:

You rebel against the old and promote the new. You change/reform anything and everything, eager for progress. Your friends may be individualistic, rebellious, detached, intellectual, unusual or scientifically-minded. You challenge assumptions about humanitarianism, community and the future. You invent/originate unpredictably and often. You break the rules about communities, perspectives and exploration. You revolutionize groups, friendships and new-age knowledge. You can be tolerant of chaos, anarchy and change-in-the-making. Freedom, for you, is paramount; you fight against any strings. The collective/humanity is explosive, chaotic, erratic and unpredictable, in your viewpoint.

For your birthplace, Neptune is in the 3rd house.

You could idealize/romanticize thinking and communication. You may avoid/ignore relatives or concepts which do not fit your dreams. You may delude (yourself or others) through poetic language or elusive, "magic" thinking. You merge with others through inspiring communication or idealistic concepts. You might repress/deny feelings about siblings, relatives or neighbors which are unpleasant or do not fit your ideals. You heal/rescue others through words, ideas and information. You transcend through thinking, gathering knowledge and sharing information. You yearn for infinite love and beauty in language and could be poetic. Miracles/mysticism are natural in your perception and thinking. Your imagination is easily accessible to logic; you can blend objectivity and subjectivity, intuition and rationality.

For your relocation, Neptune is in the 2nd house. You keep the above themes, but add the following overlay:

You could idealize/romanticize comfort, financial security and pleasure. You may avoid/ignore gratification and comfort needs which do not fit your dreams. You may delude (yourself or others) about money, possessions or pleasures. You merge with others through sensual and artistic experiences. You might repress/deny feelings about ownership and finances which are unpleasant or do not fit your ideals. You heal/rescue others physically or monetarily. You transcend through sensuality, artistic expression or enjoying life. You yearn for infinite love and beauty in tangible form (and may be artistic). Miracles/mysticism take physical manifestation in your life. Your imagination enhances/confuses your earnings and pleasure from life.

For both your birthplace and your relocation, Pluto is in the 12th house.

You seek to master your dreams, visions and ideals. You intimidate/overpower through weakness, passivity, manipulation or "rescuing" others. You probe/investigate fantasies, hopes, ideals and escapist urges. You control (or are controlled by) your imagination and pipeline to the Infinite. You eliminate dreams, imagination, compassion or fantasy, escapism and psychosis. You bond/feel intimate in a context of sensitivity, empathy, merging, selflessness, compassion and beauty. You concentrate on ideals, beauty, union, spirituality and absolutes. You project (facets of yourself you'd rather not face) onto fantasy figures, people you do not see clearly, or bury them in your unconscious.

You share/allocate visions, aesthetic urges, spiritual drives and inspirational needs in order to further your quest for infinite love and beauty. You test (yourself or others) against an ideal image and standard for infinite love.

For both your birthplace and your relocation, Ceres is in the 9th house.

Your mothering could be "perfect," perfectionistic, moralistic, confident, philosophical, independent or truth-seeking. Your work can broaden your horizons. You can heal through truth-seeking and truth-giving. You utilize concepts, beliefs and values to get the job done. You support the quest for understanding. You improve your world view and beliefs about reality on a regular basis. You produce optimism, confidence and visions. You serve long-range goals, ultimate values and a Higher Power. Your tasks call for trust, buoyancy and a broad perspective on life. Nurturing, for you, is an adventure.

For your birthplace, Pallas is in the 7th house.

You affiliate/align with beauty, harmony, ease. You compete gracefully, diplomatically, coolly. You negotiate fairly, legally, socially. You decorate/beautify naturally. You balance relationships and seek a give-and-take. You seek equality in associations with others. Justice, to you, should be balanced, harmonious and even-handed. You react cooperatively, competitively, cordially. You make contracts with others people. You justify/fight for equality, justice and fair play.

For your relocation, Pallas is in the 6th house. You keep the above themes, but add the following overlay:

You affiliate/align with organization, cleansing, efficiency. You compete methodically, effectively, discreetly. You negotiate modestly, pragmatically, dependably. You decorate/beautify handicrafts or in your job. You balance work, healthy and service. You seek equality on the job. Justice, to you, should be quiet, deliberate and without waste. You react quietly, critically, efficiently. You make contracts regarding getting the job done well. You justify/fight for health, productivity, growing things.

For your birthplace, Juno is in the 7th house.

Your partner/spouse/mate could be indecisive, competitive, hypocritical or attractive, courteous and pleasing. You agree with harmony, equality and cooperation. Symmetry, for you, means an equal sharing with others. You compare and contrast in your one-to-one interactions with others. You may feel possessive of your partner. You may placate associates. You are attracted to beauty, charm, balance. You relate to/empathize with legalities, aesthetics, compromises. Passions and pleasures come primarily through your one-to-one relationships. You see alternatives/choices/dualities in your dealings with other people.

For your relocation, Juno is in the 6th house. You keep the above themes, but add the following overlay:

Your partner/spouse/mate could be nitpicky, compulsive, ill or hardworking, practical and dependable. You agree with the work ethic, skepticism, analysis. Symmetry, for you, is related to shared efforts. You compare and contrast on the job. You may feel possessive of your job or health routines. You may placate co-workers. You are attracted to competence, efficiency, capability. You relate to/empathize with growing things, productivity, service. Passions and pleasures can come through a job well done in your case. You see alternatives/choices/dualities in the way you handle your tasks.

For both your birthplace and your relocation, Vesta is in the 9th house.

You analyze beliefs, values and world views. You may criticize the philosophies, religions or spiritual approaches of yourself or other people.

You fix your ideals, goals, principles and visions. You perfect your gathering of knowledge about the meaning of life. You take apart/pick at concepts, ideals, morals and ethics. You organize/order your quest for understanding the nature of reality. You work on attaining ultimate understanding. You cleanse your philosophy of life when new truths appear. Health, for you, means the freedom to seek the truth. Efficiency/competence, in your eyes, is an ultimate value.

For both your birthplace and your relocation, Chiron is in the 6th house.

You expect a lot of colleagues, your job or yourself as a worker. You experiment practically, measuringly, with a drive for useful applications. You generalize about work, health or common sense. Your principles are practical, organized and logical. You believe the big picture calls for patience, thoroughness and service. You pursue democratic ideals at work. Individual truth is subject to critical analysis in your mind. You reform ideas through analysis, discrimination and flaw-finding. Group consciousness may affect your work place or routines on the job. Original thinking can contribute to your productivity.

Natally, you have a stellium in the 12th house. This indicates that you may focus a lot on the affairs of this house. The following are likely to be accented: mysticism, love of nature, quest for infinite love/beauty, escapist tendencies, compassion, desire to merge/experience Oneness.

---

In your relocation, you have a stellium in the 11th house. This indicates that the affairs of this house will be in higher focus while you live in this locality. The following are likely to be emphasized: groups, organizations, causes, anything on the cutting edge of change, individuality, desire for freedom/independence.

ANGLES CHANGING SIGNS

When angles change signs, you need to consider the nature of the relocated signs as overlays on the basic essence of the natal signs. You never lose your natal sign placements, but get additional themes and issues when your relocated angles change signs. This section will consider the issues you are facing through the signs on your Midheaven. (The next part will look at sign changes on the Ascendant/Descendant axis.)

You must also consider the placements of planets ruling the angles, particularly when the relocated ruler occupies a different house than the natal ruler does. (The themes must be combined in such cases.) Another section will discuss the rulership changes that occur with your relocation.

The sign on your Midheaven is the same in your relocation as in your birthplace.

The Ascendant/Descendant angle axis is a significant key to issues you are learning to balance in terms of interpersonal relationships. The Ascendant signifies qualities you tend to express yourself, through your personal action, while the Descendant denotes attributes you face in your relationships. Sometimes these attributes will be shared with a partner. Other times, another person may express the qualities of the Descendant which seem foreign to your being. The challenge is to balance the polar opposites of the ascending and descending signs. They point to inner needs that can polarize and seem at opposite ends, yet need each other as natural partners.

Natally you have Virgo rising and Pisces setting, highlighting the polarity of "the real" versus "the ideal." Virgo concentrates on doing; Pisces focuses on dreaming. Virgo is practical and uses common sense. Pisces is visionary and uses rose-colored glasses. Since this polar-ity involves relationships, you will be working on the balance in your associations with other people. One danger is falling into savior/victim associations. This can be any relationship where one individual tries to "rescue" or "take care of everything" for the other. One party may be alcoholic, a drug addict, or simply not quite able to cope in some area. The other person's "need to be needed" or desire to help goes overboard.

If the idealistic side wins out in relationships, you could be attracted to spacey people, or view things unrealistically, falling for a fantasy, only to be disillusioned later. If the realistic side wins out, you might be too critical and judgmental. Flaws could be magnified. An integrated blending means you can be forgiving of insignificant foibles, glossing over human errors that are unimportant, seeing the best in a partner overall, but practical and sensible enough to pay attention to significant problems at work at improving relationships.

The signs on your Ascendant and Descendant are the same for your relocation and your birthplace.

Rulers Changing Houses

The ruler of the Ascendant stays in the 1st house.

The ruler of the Midheaven stays in the 1st house.

ASPECTS TO THE ANGLES

The zodiacal positions of the planets do not change when you relocate, but the angles of the horoscope (Ascendant, Descendant, Midheaven, IC) will be altered. Thus, your aspects to the horoscope angles will also change. You never lose the natal patterns, but must factor in the relocated ones as well. If aspects were present natively and disappear in the relocation, those themes remain for you, but are less relevant in that area. If aspects were not present natively, but are in the relocation, those are issues you will face in that region but are not innate themes for you. If you move from natal harmony to relocated conflict, you have the opportunity to prove your mastery of those issues. If you move from natal conflict to relocated harmony, you have a bit of "ease" in facing the natal challenges, the potential of integrating some of your dilemmas.

This section will examine first any natal (and then relocated) aspects from planets to angles. Then, it will consider angle aspects in terms of the rulerships of the planets involved.

Natal Ascendant Conjunct the Sun

You need to shine. You have a high degree of vitality/life force. You are in touch with your inner child. You are naturally creative. You may be too proud (or too ashamed) of yourself. You have a strong drive for excitement and may instinctively take risks. You have leadership potential. You have natural magnetism/charisma. Your fun-loving spirit is strong. Enthusiasm and spontaneity come easily to you.

Natal Ascendant Sextile Neptune

You support idealism. You aid/assist the quest for infinite love and beauty. Grace and beauty energize you. You may be attracted to savior/victim entanglements. You appreciate/enjoy compassion. Your immediate impulses support the quest for Oneness/Union. Your energy flows easily into healing/helping. Intuition backs your personal action. Dreams/visions feed your assertion/courage. Visualization comes easily to you.

Natal Ascendant Conjunct Pluto

You are intense and may have tremendous endurance. You have a drive for self-mastery and may transform yourself/others. Sexual needs or issues may be central in your life; your desires could be strong. You are capable of great concentration and may sometimes obsess. You need to explore your inner depths (and Shadow side); you are an instinctive prober. Your intimacy instincts are strong. You may face issues around resentment/forgiveness. You can be courageous and forceful (or cruel). You may have challenges around learning to release (let go). You can understand the underlying causes and patterns in life.

Natal Ascendant Square Vesta

Personal desires may conflict with a need for efficient functioning. You may face health challenges (or put lots of energy into health maintenance). Flaw-finding instincts may affect your sense of self. Immediate actions may compete with pragmatism. Work duties may clash with your personal needs. You may feel torn between speed and exactitude. Personal needs may conflict with organizational skills. Doing your own thing may compete with a "fix-it" approach. Immediate impulses may conflict with tunnel vision. Criticism could affect your self-expression; count assets as well as flaws.

Natal Ascendant Opposite Chiron

You might seesaw back and forth in satisfying your urge to know more. You may inhibit your actions with a quest for perfection (or believe you can do anything). You might overdo or underdo the urge to go beyond known boundaries. You might experience extremes in terms of experiments or risk-taking. High expectations could influence your partnerships. Freedom issues could affect your relationships. You are attracted to people who stimulate your mind. Your partnership(s) will be strongly affected by ideals, values and beliefs. You seek a sense of growth and expansion in your associations. You are apt to be restless, creative and progressive.

Natal Ascendant Square the Midheaven

Personal desires may conflict with authorities. Immediate impulses may compete with career aspirations. Doing your own thing may conflict with power drives. Independent action may compete with status needs. Self-expression may conflict with reality demands. Personal power may vie with societal power. You may take on too much (or too little) responsibility. Duties may compete with your desire for independence. You may fight the limits (or give up too soon) in life. Immediacy may vie with caution; they need each other.

Relocated Ascendant Conjunct Mercury

You need to communicate. You are a natural talker/listener. You can be quite logical. You are adaptable/flexible. Learning comes naturally to you; you instinctively gather information. You could be quite perceptive/observant. You are likely to be curious and restless; you perceive rapidly. Your mind works quickly; you can debate well (and leap to conclusions). You can aggress with word (biting, ironic, sarcastic, satirical). You identify with your mind and verbal skills.

Relocated Ascendant Trine Jupiter

Your actions tend to be goal-oriented. You probably encourage philosophy and religious ideals. You act in accordance with your beliefs. You naturally seek wider horizons, more answers in life. You can be quite forceful in regard to morality/ethics. Your self-confidence is likely to be good. You tend toward optimism (perhaps too much at times). Your immediate impulses amplify a quest for the truth/meaning. Education, ideals, knowledge or Higher Truth may be helpful to you. You may expect a lot of yourself.

Relocated Ascendant Trine Saturn

You tend to encourage personal responsibility. You prefer to act in a realistic manner. You are apt to seek power or a position of expertise. You tend to be practical about yourself. You can balance initiative and caution. You can throw yourself into a career. Your natural instincts reinforce (perhaps to an extreme) status ambitions. The wisdom of experience contributes to your personal actions. Your basic instincts blend well with discipline/effort. Mentors/authority figures may be helpful to you.

Relocated Ascendant Trine Ceres

You probably reinforce nurturing. You tend to encourage competence. You may back up and amplify healthy physical functioning. You can be quite productive. You may feel energetic when involved with routines at work. You can be quite analytical. You may experience harmony with nurturing figures. Colleagues may be helpful to you. Caretaking may raise your energy level. Your family may be supportive of you.

Relocated Ascendant Opposite Juno

Personal needs must be balanced with marriage/partnership instincts. You might overdo or underdo the need for beauty (especially visual). You may polarize between doing your own thing and sharing with others. You could overdo, underdo or flip between assertion versus grace/charm. ### Rulers' Aspects to Angles

Natally, harmony aspect from ruler of 1st (Mercury) to the IC.

Your natural self-expression harmonizes with your desire for a nest. You can nurture and be nurtured by family members or those upon whom you depend. You are able to balance independence and attachments.

Natally, harmony aspect from ruler of 1st (Mercury) to the MC.

Your immediate urges support your career efforts. You know how to fend for yourself as well as fit into society's structures. You naturally put yourself into vocational achievements.

Natally, harmony aspect from ruler of 2nd (Venus) to the IC.

Family members may contribute to your capacity to enjoy the material or sensual world. Your home, parents or family could enhance your financial situation or bring more gratification and pleasure into your life.

Natally, conflict aspect from ruler of 2nd (Venus) to the Descendant.

Partners may challenge your material/financial picture. Clashes are possible around issues of comfort, sensuality or money. Differing viewpoints may call for compromise in terms of pleasures and possessions.

Natally, conjunction between ruler of 3rd (Pluto) and the Ascendant.

Your consciousness is self-oriented, concerned with independence and assertion. You learn quickly, through action, but may be impatient if ideas are slow to click in. Your interactions with relatives may be independent, acerbic, aggressive or eager. You think about action, doing your own thing, liberty and anger. Your communication style is rapid, spontaneous, direct and may be impulsive. Your surrounding environment stimulates/challenges your assertion, coordination, courage and pioneering spirit. You are curious about who you are, the new, bravery and independence. You can be lighthearted about your sense of self, anger and the pursuit of liberty. Your interests may include sports or vigorous physical action, assertive self-expression or courageous ground-breaking. You notice courage, initiative, vitality and enthusiasm.

Natally, conflict aspect from ruler of 3rd (Pluto) to the IC.

Communication may be unclear, blocked or inhibited with family members. Whether fear, criticism, self-doubts, arrogance or other qualities are involved, the challenge is to be objective and deal logically as well as sensitively with important emotional issues.

Natally, conflict aspect from ruler of 3rd (Pluto) to the Descendant.

Communication may be a challenge in relationships. Perhaps one person talks too much, another too little. Perhaps there is a lack of clarity and a reluctance to confront touchy issues. Work toward increased objectivity and empathy.

Natally, conflict aspect from ruler of 3rd (Pluto) to the MC.

Communication clashes are possible with authority figures. You may feel blocked or inhibited by the criticism of others. Detachment allows you to learn what is useful from the situation and disregard the rest.

Natally, harmony aspect from ruler of 7th (Neptune) to the Ascendant.

You have the capacity to blend personal and interpersonal needs. You can be your own person and still share a warm relationship with a partner. Harmony between you and others is implied; cooperation comes naturally.

Natally, harmony aspect from ruler of 7th (Neptune) to the Descendant.

Inner agreement is suggested in your approach to partnerships. This could be cooperative, competitive, protective, etc. (See whole chart for the focus.) Grace, beauty and harmony are a potential focus.

Natally, conflict aspect from ruler of 7th (Neptune) to the MC.

You may feel your relationships compete with your career--each taking time and energy from the other. Or, your partner may clash with you about work, responsibility or power. An authority figure might be at odds with a partner. You need to make peace between your sharing side and your side that wants control.

Natally, harmony aspect from ruler of 9th (Venus) to the IC.

You have the capacity to combine domesticity and adventure. You can reach out into the world for more travel, education, understanding or excitement, while still maintaining important emotional ties. You may broaden your home base and enlarge your comfort with new experiences.

Natally, conflict aspect from ruler of 9th (Venus) to the Descendant.

Idealism is an issue in interpersonal relationships. You may want more than is humanly possible--or attract partners whose expectations are very grand. Ethics, moral principles and religious/spiritual beliefs may require discussion and compromise. Encourage the positive without falling into perfectionism.

Natally, harmony aspect from ruler of 10th (Mercury) to the IC.

You can make your family and career supportive of one another. Those closest to you can support your working endeavors and your vocational responsibilities contribute to domestic well-being. You are able to make a comfortable combination of caring and competence. You can be warm and effective.

Natally, harmony aspect from ruler of 10th (Mercury) to the MC.

Ability and talent is suggested for handling responsibilities and career demands. You can be practical, assess reality and do what is necessary. You have the capacity to work toward more and more authority. Taking control, particularly vocationally, is a natural for you.

Natally, conjunction between ruler of 12th (the Sun) and the Ascendant.

You could idealize/romanticize action, courage, freedom and self-expression. You may avoid/ignore freedom, openness and directness when it doesn't fit your dreams. You may delude yourself through rose-colored glasses. You merge easily and may unconsciously pick up vibes (good or bad) from others. You might repress/deny feelings that are unpleasant and don't fit your ideals. You heal/rescue naturally and instinctively (people--plants--animals). You transcend through action, courage, assertion and being true to yourself. You yearn to express infinite love and beauty through your own personal action (and could be graceful or participate in beauty in motion). Miracles/mysticism are a natural part of life for you. Your imagination is strong and easy to tap.

In relocation, conjunction between ruler of 1st (Mercury) and the Ascendant.

You are open, spontaneous, direct and independent. Your courage is marked. Your sense of self is highlighted; you want to do your own thing in life. Your independence is vital to your identity and self-expression. You are very strong willed. Your energy is high; you bounce back easily. You assert yourself naturally. You get angry quickly and get over it quickly. You push for what you want in the world. You initiate easily; pioneering is natural to you.

In relocation, conflict aspect from ruler of 1st (Mercury) to the IC.

Your personal needs may seem at odds with family demands or domestic duties. You could feel torn between independent action versus dependency or nurturance roles. Emotional conflicts are possible until you make room for both freedom and close connections.

In relocation, conflict aspect from ruler of 1st (Mercury) to the Descendant.

You may clash with others on occasion. You could feel torn between doing your own thing and sharing life with someone else, or between asserting yourself versus accommodating another individual. A middle ground is essential.

In relocation, conflict aspect from ruler of 1st (Mercury) to the MC.

You may experience clashes with authority figures, or between what you want and what society demands (by law, convention, structures, etc.). Avoid extremes of giving up too soon or pushing too hard. Find ways to figure out the basic rules and work within them for what you want.

In relocation, harmony aspect from ruler of 4th (Jupiter) to the Ascendant.

Mutual support is possible between you and family members. Nurturing figures may be of assistance to you and you may protect others. You find it easy to pursue your own activities and still have time for the people you care about.

In relocation, harmony aspect from ruler of 4th (Jupiter) to the Descendant.

Sharing and caring are accentuated. Relationships are important--on both an equal level and in terms of protecting or being protected. Harmony may flow between parents and partner, or simply between your partnership side and your nurturing side.

In relocation, conflict aspect from ruler of 4th (Jupiter) to the MC.

You may feel torn between achievement needs and domestic duties. Your time and energy could be stressfully pulled between family and career. You can be both strong and gentle, but need to find a middle ground position.

In relocation, harmony aspect from ruler of 4th (Saturn) to the Ascendant.

See earlier text.

In relocation, harmony aspect from ruler of 5th (Uranus) to the IC.

Warmth and caring connections are highlighted. The focus is on loving and being loved, and the desire for a family and loved ones to share your world. You find it easy to create and to nurture your creations.

In relocation, conflict aspect from ruler of 5th (Uranus) to the Descendant.

Ego clashes could affect relationships. You may experience partners and kids battling for attention or different people demanding your love. The challenge is to integrate your thrill-seeking, risk-taking side with your desire for committed relationships and caring connections.

In relocation, harmony aspect from ruler of 5th (Uranus) to the MC.

Your creative, confident, zestful enthusiasm can enhance your career direction and/or your relationships with authorities. Believing in yourself and your ability to shine furthers your vocational ambitions. Children and/or lovers might contribute to your work (and vice versa).

In relocation, conjunction between ruler of 10th (Mercury) and the Ascendant.

You structure yourself and may over (or under-) control your self-expression. The law, in your eyes, is direct, immediate and may be sharp. You feel responsible for yourself. Your duties demand much energy, activity, initiative and courage from you. You are susceptible to guilt regarding your desires and what you want in life. You perceive authorities (including father) as assertive (aggressive), active, courageous, direct or self-centered. You may feel limited in life, or hold yourself back through self-criticism. Your career needs to be self-directed and involve assertion or action. Your karma affects your physical being and capacity for assertion and doing your own thing. You can be realistic about who you are and what you can do.

In relocation, conflict aspect from ruler of 10th (Mercury) to the IC.

You may experience some tension between family and work demands, or a push/pull between dominance and dependency or warm caring and pragmatic performance. Compromise allows both sides expression. Find ways to make your career and domestic areas mutually supportive.

In relocation, conflict aspect from ruler of 10th (Mercury) to the Descendant.

You are working on the integration of love and work needs. You may feel torn between time and energy demands of a career versus close relationships. Your job may take you away from a partner or vice versa. Compromise allows you to make room for caring and competence, sharing and success.

In relocation, conflict aspect from ruler of 10th (Mercury) to the MC.

Some conflict is possible around issues of structure, authority and power. This might include stress with authority figures, or simply your own ambivalence about responsibility and the degree to which you want or are willing to take control in life. Be sensible and work within practical limits.

In relocation, conjunction between ruler of 12th (Mercury) and the Ascendant.

See earlier text.

In relocation, conflict aspect from ruler of 12th (Mercury) to the IC.

Your idealistic caring may affect your home and family. If overdone, sensitivity could be a problem. You or those you care about might be susceptible to escapism or martyrdom. If integrated, you can make your home a sanctuary, a place that feeds the soul.

In relocation, conflict aspect from ruler of 12th (Mercury) to the Descendant.

Your quest for infinite love and beauty may challenge human relationships. If overdone, you may want more than is possible or fall into savior-victim (co-dependency) associations. You have a talent for imagining utopian prospects; be sure you are sufficiently grounded to help make them real.

In relocation, conflict aspect from ruler of 12th (Mercury) to the MC.

Your yearning for the ultimate may challenge your professional aspirations. If carried too far, you could seek the "perfect" job that doesn't exist, or want more than is reasonable of yourself as a worker. Your visions can be made real; just keep a balance between doing and dreaming.

Life Area Harmony/Conflict

In seeking an overall sense of the shift between your natal and relocated positions, it is worthwhile to analyze the aspect changes. This section will compare the aspects of your natal chart to those of your relocated chart in terms of various life areas. We will note whether your relocated horoscope shows more (or less) conflict and more (or less) harmony in terms of money, relationships, etc. Harmony and conflict assessments are based on a simple count of the number of aspects. Some people may wish to give different weights to different aspects, which is why the number of each type of aspect to each planet is provided at the end.

Bear in mind that more conflict or more harmony for any life area means that those issues will be more intense for you in the relocation. Added strength and intensity does not mean good or bad; it means more emotional impact and issues for you to face. (You have a fair amount of control regarding how positively or negatively you handle intense issues.) Similarly, if you have less conflict or less harmony, those issues will be less personally intense for you in the relocation than they were in your place of birth.

More harmony means matters pertaining to that life area (money, self-expression, spiritual needs, etc.) are apt to flow a bit more easily in the relocation. If that is carried to an extreme, however, you might be too relaxed, waiting for things to fall into your lap, or expecting everything to go your way. Harmony suggests opportunities, but it will still be up to you to take advantage of those opportunities!

More conflict means matters pertaining to that life area (relationships, career, etc.) are apt to require more conscious effort, more compromises, and more attention. You cannot just "go with the flow." You have to exert effort. However, just as physical effort builds physical muscles, so do mental, emotional and spiritual effort build "muscles" and strengths on other levels. We need a certain amount of conflict (friction if you will) in order to grab hold and accomplish in life, but too much friction can be painful. Conflict aspects point to challenging areas, but also areas where you can accomplish a great deal.

These "Aspect Tallies" include data which is somewhat relative. We have chosen compromise orbs to use (wider than some astrologers prefer, tighter than others would like). We are not attempting to weight any particular aspects MORE than any others. Since the annotation is provided here, you may choose to select out certain aspects as more significant than others according to your views on astrology. If you give more (or less) weight to certain aspects, that could change the overall judgment of whether you have more (or less) conflict (or harmony).

Note, for example, that a square which is part of a t-square or grand cross is more significant than a solitary square. Similarly, a trine which is part of a grand trine carries more weight than a single, isolated trine. You may wish to give more weight to harmony when a grand trine exists and more weight to conflict when a grand cross or t-square exists. We have therefore included letters after planets that are part of configurations. A "G" after a planet means that it is part of a grand trine or grand cross, depending on whether the aspect is a trine or square/opposition. A "T" after a planet means that it is part of a t-square.

Money: Nately, ♂ in 2nd √☉, ✱♃; ♀ ruler of 2nd ☐♁; ♂ ruler of 8th √☉, ✱♃; ♀ MCT. In relocation, ♁ in 2nd ☐♀, ✱♁, Δ♁; ♀ ruler of 2nd ☐♁; ♂ ruler of 8th √☉, ✱♃. Equal harmony and equal conflict.

Relationships: Nately, ♀ in 7th ♂☉, ♁♃; ✱

The planets with the most harmony natal-ly are Jupiter, Neptune and Ceres.

This suggests possible ease in terms of: your big dreams and schemes, seeking for TRUTH, tendency to overgeneralize, large plans/long-range goals, optimism/overconfidence, trust, idealism, ability to make a leap of faith and urge to broaden your influence or horizons; your sensitivity, intuition, search for Union, urge to merge through art/mysticism/religion, escapist activities or imagination, confused/deluded visions or inspired dreams, compassion, empathy, desire for perfection, Higher Self, fantasies and healing potential; your mother or mother figure, home or work focus, competent compassion, effective caretaking, concern with children/growing things and nurturing issues.

Since Jupiter rules the 4th house natally, harmony/talent could involve your home, family, nurturing parent, ability to care and be cared for, need for emotional security, attachment to the land/country/roots/public.

Since Neptune rules the 7th house natally, harmony/talent could involve your partner(s)/partnership, cooperation/competition, visual arts, legal matters, appreciation of polarities, drive for justice/equality.

The planet with the most conflict natally is Chiron.

This suggests challenges in terms of your need to know more, quest for perfection, urge to go beyond known boundaries, healing potential, freedom needs and mental restlessness.

The planets with the most harmony relocated are again Jupiter and Ceres.

Since Jupiter rules the 4th house in the new location, harmony/talent is emphasized for the themes of that house

The planet with the most conflict relocated is Uranus.

This suggests challenges in terms of your unpredictability, progressiveness, humanitarian attitudes, attraction to surprises, friends, intellectuality, coolness/detachment, recognition of multiple options, participation in groups, support for causes, New Age involvements and resistance to limits.

Since Uranus rules the 5th house in the new location, conflict could involve your creativity, desire to shine/be admired, drive for excitement, romantic needs, children, urge to take risks/do more than before.

Tools for Looking Ahead

This final section is to help you in planning future relocations. Generally, you would tend to prefer relocations that place planets with more harmony in key houses, or ruling key houses. (There are times when you may wish conflict aspects to focus on certain issues, and the lists we provide here will help you to identify conflict aspects.)

This section tallies aspects only in terms of planets to planets. That is constant--no matter where you move. The first list rank orders the planets from most to least number of harmony aspects. This allows you to easily select the planets you wish to feature in key areas of a relocation. The second list rank orders the planets from most to least number of conflict aspects. The subsequent lists give the number of aspects for each type of aspect (trine, square, etc.) to each planet, for those people who want to focus on a particular kind of aspect (e.g., they are dealing a lot with polarities, with comparing and contrasting so want their relocation to feature oppositions).

Remember, this section is only considering planet to planet aspects. Your natal and relocated angles are disregarded. Wherever you
