John's Natal Emphasized Signs and Houses

The Sun is in Aquarius.

A unique individualist, you may pride yourself on not being like anyone else. Determined to follow your own path, you avoid or confound people who attempt to fit you into a mold or stereotype. Able to detach yourself your perspective is broad.

The Sun is in the 7th house.

Interested in harmony and peace. Enjoys beauty and comfortable surroundings. Readily grasps the viewpoint of others, therefore a good mediator; but may be indecisive. You need a sharing partner, not one who is too forceful or condescending.

The Moon is in Cancer.

Motherly and strongly home-oriented. Sensitivity and sentimentality are concealed to mask vulnerability, or positively used in nurturing. Being needed is essential, so you are uncomfortable with those who are extremely independent.

The Moon is in the 11th house.

Able to experiment emotionally, you are not bound by the same rules and roles that most people follow. You can be creative, and discover alternative ways of interacting and sharing. Flexible in your feelings, you seek independence with love.

The Ascendant is in Leo.

Blessed with an instinctive stage presence, you know how to have an impact. With flair and magnetism, you can persuade others, or sweep them along in your enthusiasms. A risk-taker, you often make love the greatest adventure.

Chloe's Natal Emphasized Signs and Houses

The Sun is in Virgo.

Orderly, analytical and hard-working. Wishes to be of service to deserving people. Enjoys sharing an interest in health with like-minded individuals. You may be intolerant toward, or critical of, those who are lazy, sloppy or careless.

The Sun is in the 1st house.

Warm and outgoing. You experience new situations with childlike excitement. You start projects zealously, but often need "a pat on the head" to complete them. You need support, but do not want direction; and you resent people who try to control you.

The Moon is in Leo.

Intensely reactive, you may sometimes dramatize feelings. Life tends to be experienced on a grand scale. Loving and being loved are usually central in your world, so emotional commitments get lots of attention. Warm, caring and exciting.

The Moon is in the 12th house.

Naturally intuitive and deeply feeling, you can easily merge with the feelings of those about you, even to the point of picking up physical discomforts. Learn to shut off the empathy, so it is a tool you use rather than vice versa.

The Ascendant is in Virgo.

You probably judge yourself by your productivity, and may be excessively critical when you believe you have not worked as hard as you could. Keenly analytical and discriminating, you need partners who share your drive for optimum functioning.

John's natal ELEMENT and MODALITY EMPHASIS.

There is quite a bit of fire in your chart.

You are energetic, idealistic and thrive on excitement. You prefer to be a participant rather than an observer. Be cautious that your enthusiasm does not lead to over-commitment which can cause exhaustion or frustration.

There is quite a bit of fixity in your chart.

Persistency and perhaps stubbornness are part of your basic make-up. You can work long and hard for desired goals. There is a resistance to change once direction is determined, but adjustments can be made deliberately and gradually.

John's natal PLANETS, SIGNS and RULERS in HOUSES 5, 7 and 8.

Houses 5, 7, and 8 are houses of relationship potential. While they have other meanings, here they are defined as love relationships (5), partnerships (7) and sexual relationships (8).

Meaning of the 5th house.

In relationships, this house represents romance and courtship. The sign in the house describes qualities wanted in a lover & a love relationship. With 2 or more signs, there may be attraction to different types of lovers, but contentment is most likely with 1 person who combines the qualities of the 2 or 3 signs. Planets in the house add more qualifications. And finally, there will be a strong connection between romance and the house in which the fifth house ruler is placed.

Chloe's natal ELEMENT and MODALITY EMPHASIS.

The elements are evenly balanced in your chart.

Because you have a balance in elements, you will operate in different styles at various times. You can act with energy and zeal (fire); in a practical manner (earth); through communicating (air); or by showing your emotions (water).

There is quite a bit of mutability in your chart.

You are flexible, adaptable, and have the ability to undertake more than one project at a time. There is a strong dependency on, or interdependency with, others. You can usually work well cooperatively but prefer not to be the decision-maker.

Sagittarius is on the cusp of the 5th house.

The emphasis in love relationships is on movement. Once something new is experienced and digested you go on to different situations. Your lover may not always be consistent, but you should be philosophical about it & concentrate on having fun.

Capricorn is in the 5th house.

You do not take romance lightly and are uncomfortable with those who refuse to commit themselves. You are drawn to serious, dependable people. Your lover may not often take you to amusement parks, but the Stock Exchange can also be fun.

Jupiter ruling the 5th house is in the 8th house.

You may equate romance with sexuality and feel that a love relationship without sexual involvement leaves a great deal to be desired. Or perhaps you evaluate your love affairs in terms of their transformatory or regenerative effects.

Venus is in the 5th house.

You want mainly pleasure in love affairs, and tend to believe that love conquers all. This view may not be realistic, but by concentrating on the romantic side of your lover you may overlook petty flaws that could detract from your pleasure.

Meaning of the 7th house.

The house of marital partners and other close one-to-one relationships. Courtship (5th house) can lead to partnership but the 7th house assumes a close and more constant contact. Thus it is more difficult to escape potential problems and they are more fully addressed here. Also when a love affair (5th house) shifts to a partnership (7th), the complexion of the relationship changes according to characteristics described by signs and planets in the 7th house,

Capricorn is on the cusp of the 5th house.

You do not take romance lightly and are uncomfortable with those who refuse to commit themselves. You are drawn to serious, dependable people. Your lover may not often take you to amusement parks, but the Stock Exchange can also be fun.

Aquarius is in the 5th house.

Romances may enter your life suddenly, or you may attract unusual or creative lovers. You have the ability to be objective about your love affairs, and you should have no difficulty expressing your individuality in that area.

Saturn ruling the 5th house is in the 5th house.

This position can place great importance on love affairs, and, for you, life without romance leaves something to be desired. If your lover is not demonstrative, romantic and generous, you may create scenarios to elicit these qualities.

Jupiter is in the 5th house.

You want a lover who is generous and fun to be with. You yourself may be somewhat extravagant when it comes to romance; but cost should not be a consideration when there are new things to be experienced and new places to explore.

Saturn is in the 5th house.

You may feel that the responsibility of your love relationship is totally on your shoulders, or else you will search for responsible lovers. With this placement even the most frivolous of people will take romance seriously.

Meaning of the 7th house.

The house of marital partners and other close one-to-one relationships. Courtship (5th house) can lead to partnership but the 7th house and the position of the house ruler.

Aquarius is on the cusp of the 7th house.

You may marry someone from a different cultural or religious background than your own; or a person who is a free spirit. You consider your view of relationships to be modern, but here words may speak louder than actions.

Pisces is in the 7th house.

You want to be as one with your partner, experiencing the problems and triumphs as though they were your own. Be careful not to lose your identity by relating too closely with another. Ask your partner to share some of your dreams.

Uranus ruling the 7th house is in the 2nd house.

You do not want to be totally supported by your partner, and must contribute to the relationship in some material way to feel that you are an asset. If you do not earn money, you at least, should have some say in handling the finances.

Sun is in the 7th house.

You may base your own self-evaluation on the opinions of your partner and rarely feel ego gratification from a solo performance. You need someone with, or for whom, you can shine. Try to share or alternate the limelight with your partner.

Saturn is in the 7th house.

For you, marriage is a serious commitment so you may take your time selecting the right partner. Security is also an issue. Therefore, you will undoubtedly be attracted to someone who is dependable, predictable and perhaps older.

assumes a close and more constant contact. Thus it is more difficult to escape potential problems and they are more fully addressed here. Also when a love affair (5th house) shifts to a partnership (7th), the complexion of the relationship changes according to characteristics described by signs and planets in the 7th house, and the position of the house ruler.

Pisces is on the cusp of the 7th house.

You want to be as one with your partner, experiencing the problems and triumphs as though they were your own. Be careful not to lose your identity by relating too closely with another. Ask your partner to share some of your dreams.

Aries is in the 7th house.

You will be proud of your partner's leadership ability but resentful if all decisions are made for you. Although compromise in this area does not come easily, it is important to periodically assert yourself, but try not to be overbearing.

Neptune ruling the 7th house is in the 3rd house.

Lines of communication must be kept open in partnerships and you become suspicious if there are lapses in the mundane patter. You do not need deep, analytical conversations. You just want to know what is happening in your immediate environment.

You have no planets in the 7th house.

This does not mean that you will never marry nor have a close one-to-one relationship. In fact, your demands are less complex than if you had planets there. You will not expect as much of a partner, & may be easier to get along with yourself.

Meaning of the 8th house.

For relationships, this house can represent

Meaning of the 8th house.

For relationships, this house can represent shared resources, partner's resources, or sex. Here it is treated solely as the house of sex. As with the other houses, signs and planets in the house and house position of the ruler are used to determine sexual needs and qualities of sexual partners. Since sexual activity can be part of love affairs (5) or partnerships (7), decide which your relationship is, and combine the definitions. If it is only sexual, ignore the other two houses.

Pisces is on the cusp of the 8th house.

You may look upon sex as a mystical experience, but you might have to learn that it is as blessed to receive in this area as to give. Suffering is not the only way to tap into the universal spirit. Sharing of pleasure can produce the same results.

Neptune ruling the 8th house is in the 4th house.

As far as sexual matters are concerned, you will feel most at home in familiar surroundings and you will want a sexual partner who is tender and caring. Or, you may be motherly and protective of those with whom you are involved sexually.

Jupiter is in the 8th house.

You want sex to be an ever-broadening experience, and therefore you may have a number of different sexual partners to assure variety. If, however, you find an individual who also thinks of sex as exciting and innovative, one may be enough.

shared resources, partner's resources, or sex. Here it is treated solely as the house of sex. As with the other houses, signs and planets in the house and house position of the ruler are used to determine sexual needs and qualities of sexual partners. Since sexual activity can be part of love affairs (5) or partnerships (7), decide which your relationship is, and combine the definitions. If it is only sexual, ignore the other two houses.

Aries is on the cusp of the 8th house.

You are probably more interested in immediate gratification in sexual matters than in the amenities connected with it. You prefer aggressive partners, but if action does not come quickly enough, you can become the aggressor.

Taurus is in the 8th house.

You feel most comfortable with a sexual partner who is loyal to you or in some other way adds to your sense of security. You can get tremendous satisfaction from sex, but tend to be somewhat apprehensive in new sexual situations.

Mars ruling the 8th house is in the 2nd house.

You need security in sexual matters and want your talents appreciated by a sexual partner. You have strong views in this area and it will be difficult for anyone to alter your code of ethics except for the most practical of reasons.

You have no planets in the 8th house.

You are not doomed to a life of celibacy. It is just that your list of requirements in a sexual partner and needs in sexual activities will be shorter than if you had planets in this house, and very likely your enjoyment will be just as great.

Chloe's Planets in Your Chart

HEMISPHERE EMPHASIS--Your partner's planets are placed in your chart and analyzed as to whether there is a majority in the East or West and North or South.

Chloe's planets emphasize your eastern chart.

You believe your partner should be the initiator in the relationship. If your partner also considers you an initiator there is the possibility that you may both sit back, expecting the other to take the lead, and complain about inaction.

Chloe's planets emphasize your northern chart.

You see your partner as subjective and introspective, and as needing to feel right about actions and ideas rather than to conform to the ways of others. If you really want to change your partner's mind you should appeal to personal integrity.

ANGULARITY EMPHASIS. This involves placing your partner's planets in your houses. The planets are then counted with attention as to whether they are angular (in houses 1, 4, 7 or 10), succedent (in houses 2, 5, 8 or 11) or cadent (in houses 3, 6, 9 or 12) and vice versa.

Chloe's planets do not emphasize a house group in your chart.

John's Planets in Your Chart

HEMISPHERE EMPHASIS--Your partner's planets are placed in your chart and analyzed as to whether there is a majority in the East or West and North or South.

John's east and west planets are balanced in your chart.

You see your partner as having the ability at times to be the initiator, and at times the responder. If your partner takes charge when you want your partner to, and allows you to run the show when you want to, no problems should arise.

John's planets emphasize your southern chart.

You believe your partner needs approval and, therefore, basically tries to adjust to the world, both in ideas and actions. Your thoughts on conformity may not coincide, but a little flattery can lead your partner to a re-evaluation.

ANGULARITY EMPHASIS. This involves placing your partner's planets in your houses. The planets are then counted with attention as to whether they are angular (in houses 1, 4, 7 or 10), succedent (in houses 2, 5, 8 or 11) or cadent (in houses 3, 6, 9 or 12) and vice versa.

The following text is for you. Your partner's planets energize your houses in various ways so that you experience your partner's energies through the areas of your life that your houses symbolize.

Sun in your 2nd house.

Your feelings of self-worth may be closely connected with your partner's successes and failures. You may discover, however, that if you concentrate on working toward your own goals, your partner will throw support behind you.

Moon in your 1st house.

Your partner's moods can set the tone for the relationship and you take them very personally--perhaps feeling you cause them. This will make you sensitive to your partner's needs. It can also make your partner emotionally supportive of you.

Mercury in your 3rd house.

Small talk should never be a problem for you and your partner. If, however, you get tired of gossiping about neighbors, there are many other topics to discuss such as how the children are doing in school, or where to go on your next short trip.

Venus in your 12th house.

Your partner may not be demonstrative or express affection easily and this could sometimes make you question whether your partner really cares. If you bring your concerns into the open you may find there is more support than you realize.

Mars in your 3rd house.

Your partner may be energetic or forceful in communications and may possibly seem to take charge in starting and directing conversations. Don't let this intimidate you because it may only be due to tremendous excitement or enthusiasm.

Jupiter in your 6th house.

You may see your partner as very industrious on the daily work scene. Or, on the other hand, your partner may be so into having fun that little

Sun in your 6th house.

You may feel that your partner dominates your daily routine, and that you must adapt your duties to cater to the needs of your partner. If, however, you combine your energies in this area, a great deal can be accomplished.

Moon in your 10th house.

You may feel that your partner is 100% behind you in your career or some other role you have in the world, and it may always be that way. But if your partner becomes threatened, you may notice that you are being subtly undermined.

Mercury in your 5th house.

If you have children, you and your partner will probably talk about them a great deal. Of course, children are important. But this is also the area of creativity, and if you shift discussion in this direction you might get some new ideas.

Venus in your 4th house.

Your partner displays talents in the home from which you derive pleasure, or ignores abilities and is indolent and self-indulgent. Motivate your partner to start an artistic project and you will double your pleasure or at least lessen the laziness.

Mars in your 12th house.

It may seem to you that your partner is neither forceful nor aggressive, allowing you to act pretty much as you please. You are rarely ordered around; but somehow, surprising even to you, you usually accomplish just what your partner wants.

Jupiter in your 7th house.

You are attracted to your partner's optimism, philosophical outlook or sense of adventure. You may look to your partner to grasp the spiritual meaning of life, but don't expect under-is done there. Obviously, for the best results combine business with pleasure.

Saturn in your 6th house.

Your partner may seem a task master as far as the daily work is concerned, possibly setting up rules and regulations by which you are supposed to abide. If efficiency doesn't result, however, you probably will be allowed to change the routine.

Uranus in your 1st house.

Your partner may not treat you in a consistent manner and you can almost always count on reactions to you being different from what you expect. This could make you question your personal identity, or stimulate you to express your originality.

Neptune in your 4th house.

Your partner's influence in the home is strong but not forceful. Approval or disapproval may not be consistent, and will be more felt than expressed. Do not try to understand the specifics. Work toward tranquility and petty complaints can disappear.

Pluto in your 2nd house.

You may feel that your partner wants total control over your finances which can be wonderful if you have little interest in money. If your Pluto is in this house also, however, you might suggest you each handle your own finances to avoid conflicts.

standing or even interest, in down-to-earth matters.

Saturn in your 6th house.

Your partner may seem a task master as far as the daily work is concerned, possibly setting up rules and regulations by which you are supposed to abide. If efficiency doesn't result, however, you probably will be allowed to change the routine.

Uranus in your 12th house.

Your partner may seem like a rebel; never overtly starting a revolution, but possibly being a subtle instigator. If you bring the need for excitement out into the open, disturbing undercurrents may be avoided or eliminated.

Neptune in your 3rd house.

Communications with your partner can be better on the non-verbal than the verbal level. In conversation your partner may not seem clear or direct. If, however, you tune in on the vibrations rather than the words, understanding will be greater.

Pluto in your 1st house.

Your partner may help you to transform in some way by helping you to look deeply into yourself. If your partner sometimes seems too dictatorial, directing your every move, remember that ultimately, we are really in charge of our own lives.

Aspects Between Your Charts

This next section is for both of you. The ways in which the planets make aspects (angles) to each helps to determine how your individual energies will blend together.

Aspects used are:

Name	Angle	Orb
Conjunction	0°	5°
Sextile	60°	2°
Square	90°	4°
Trine	120°	3°
Opposition	180°	4°

Sun opposite Moon Orb 1°18'

One of you easily assumes the dominant role (Sun) in the relationship; and the partner is willingly supportive as long as emotional needs are satisfied. But if the dominant partner is too self-centered, irrational behavior can disrupt harmony.

Sun trine Mars Orb 1°34'

You have the ability to energize each other and, when moving in the same direction, can be an unbeatable team. If there is disagreement, however, it can lead to angry confrontation. Dissolve the impass by energetically working to compromise.

Moon square Mercury Orb 2°40'

Intuition may be strong between you, so that you sometimes know what the other is thinking before words are expressed. But to avoid misreading each other it might be a good idea to verbalize, especially when emotional issues are involved.

Mercury conjunct Saturn Orb 2°0'

You can have serious conversations with your partner, or sometimes feel inhibited or frustrated in communications. If you think before you talk and work on being crystal clear, problems in this area can be alleviated.

Combined aspect text continues in column 2.

Venus trine Uranus Orb 1°42'

Your love life can be full of surprises and excitement. There may not be security in this combination, but it will probably never be dull. If either of you begins to feel restless or bored, just think of new ways to express affection.

Venus trine North Node Orb 1°48'

Excellent combination for socializing--not only enjoying the company of others, but taking pleasure in being together as well. Avoid over-indulging your fun-loving side (Venus) to the detriment of all else, if you want a well-founded partnership.

Mars conjunct Moon Orb 1°57'

Emotions will probably be energetically expressed in your relationship. As you undoubtedly know, it is definitely beneficial to get feelings out of your system, but whether you do this lovingly or in outbursts of anger is up to you.

Mars conjunct Venus Orb 4°9'

Attraction between you can be very strong, with one of you being more the aggressor (Mars) and the other the recipient (Venus). If, however, the aggressor becomes too forceful the partner may want to look elsewhere for pleasure.

Mars sextile Mars Orb 0°55'

Your energy level will be high when your efforts are combined. Much can be accomplished if you work in harmony. But, if disagreements arise, direct energies elsewhere to avoid open conflict, because who wants to be the first to give in?

Mars conjunct Part of Fortune Orb 4°12'

Working together toward personal fulfillment

Combined aspect text continues next page.

is the best way to utilize this connection. Make sure you consult with each other before taking action or you may find that you are moving in different directions, and no one will be satisfied.

Jupiter opposite Sun Orb 1°29'

This is an excellent connection for development and growth, both individually and as a couple, with each of you having the capability to urge the other to new heights. Try to contain your enthusiasm, however, to avoid over-extending yourselves.

Saturn opposite Moon Orb 2°43'

This combination indicates that emotions should be controlled, or at least understood. If either of you is inhibited in expressing feelings, clarify the situation with the partner. Feeling secure in the relationship can also ease restrictions.

Saturn opposite Venus Orb 3°23'

One of you could feel inhibited in the expression of affection (Venus). If, however, the other partner is responsible and provides stability, and is not too demanding (Saturn), both of you can feel secure and satisfied with the relationship.

Saturn trine Mars Orb 0°9'

One of you may feel that your ability to act (Mars) is restricted or frustrated by your partner (Saturn). Instead of fighting and, therefore, sapping energies, organize before you take action and together you can be very effective.

Saturn opposite Part of Fortune Orb 3°26'

You can achieve fulfillment in an organized manner--determining your goals and methodically working toward them. Do not, however, allow your need for security to keep you from striving for greater heights and reaping bigger rewards.

Combined aspect text continues in column 2.

Uranus conjunct Pluto Orb 4°5'

These combined energies can produce tremendous creativity. If, however, one of you is preoccupied with exerting power (Pluto); or the other is more concerned with personal freedom (Uranus) than cooperation, drastic action can result.

Uranus conjunct Ascendant Orb 4°30'

Each of you can discover new facets of yourself through your partner. Since doors are being opened, there could be some insecurity about personal identity, but this ultimately could result in a more exciting and independent you.

Uranus square Midheaven Orb 2°33'

One of you can help the other to be more creative and original in career, or more independent in interaction with the world. The effect may be sporadic, and some ideas may be too eccentric, but at least the contact will be very stimulating.

Neptune sextile Sun Orb 0°58'

To avoid misunderstanding of ego needs and/or accusations of self-centeredness combine forces in a spiritual or artistic endeavor so that one of you can feel ego gratification (Sun), and the other aesthetic accomplishment (Neptune).

Neptune square Moon Orb 1°5'

There can be a charismatic attraction between you that defies description. In fact, if you try to explain it in mundane terms you could become confused, and even suspicious. So try not to analyze. Just sit back and enjoy it.

Pluto conjunct Sun Orb 3°9'

This can be a powerful connection, with each of you having the ability to urge the other to greater heights. If, however, either feels the other is trying to totally run the show, bring it out and analyze it, so serious problems do not erupt.

Combined aspect text continues next page.

Pluto conjunct Pluto Orb 3°24'

A common connection in conjunction for those born within 2 or 3 years of each other. Denotes power or transformation. Combined efforts can produce great force. If a power struggle begins, probe deeply into it, and make changes toward cooperation.

Pluto conjunct Ascendant Orb 3°0'

One of you has the ability to strongly affect, and even transform (Pluto), the personality of the other. Any changes should be carefully considered together because, merely producing a clone will be unsatisfactory for both of you.

Ascendant conjunct Moon Orb 3°39'

The partnership can flourish through nurturing, tenderness and mutual consideration. But there could also be great sensitivity to each other's moods so that if either of you is upset, there could be fluctuation in the relationship.

Ascendant conjunct Venus Orb 2°28'

This can be an extremely pleasurable combination if you combine your efforts in expressing love and support for each other. If either of you, however, begins to become inconsiderate or self-indulgent, the other can do the same.

Ascendant sextile Mars Orb 0°47'

This combination can be sexually stimulating, or in some other way personally energizing. Enthusiasm can make one of you a little pushy, or the other may become too self-assertive. So among your choices are making love or waging war.

Ascendant square Neptune Orb 3°55'

Together you can have a mystique, and are charismatically drawn to each other. This could be a dream come true or an illusion, but don't become suspicious. As long as you both are blissful, what difference does it make if it is "real" or not.

Ascendant conjunct Part of Fortune Orb 2°30'

Personal fulfillment can be a concern you each have, and there may be a tendency to consider your own desires first. But if resources are combined to work toward a common goal, the relationship can be strengthened and personal satisfaction greater.

Midheaven square Jupiter Orb 2°13'

One of you can help your partner expand professionally, or conversely one's public image can assist the other to grow or develop in some way. Just try not to do too much too soon because this can lead to excesses and extravagances.

Midheaven trine Uranus Orb 2°38'

One of you can help the other to be more creative and original in career, or more independent in interaction with the world. The effect may be sporadic, and some ideas may be too eccentric, but at least the contact will be very stimulating.

Midheaven trine North Node Orb 2°44'

You may find that people with whom you and your partner come in contact are associated with the career of one of you. This might be enjoyable, but, if you tire of shop talk, try to widen your circle of acquaintances.

North Node opposite Jupiter Orb 1°55'

You and your partner will probably share relationships with a great number of people, and together will enjoy the company of others. But in order to sustain a partnership there has to be more than just popularity with the populace.

Part of Fortune trine Uranus Orb 1°41'

You may find that your aspirations have changed because of interaction with your partner and this could be disconcerting if it conflicts with previous attitudes. However, it could lead to greater fulfillment and more creativity.

Part of Fortune trine North Node Orb 1°48'

You may find yourselves looking to others for personal fulfillment, measuring your success by the attitude of your associates. Keep your own needs in mind as you interact and satisfaction will less likely be based on the whims of others.
